

COLAISTE NA MUMHAN

At the usual nightly gathering for singing, dancing, story-telling, etc., in the Munster Training College, Ballingeary, Mr. Fionan MacColuim, who has lately returned from his mission for the Gaelic League in America, spoke to the students of the College. He recounted the work done by Father O'Flanagan and himself, work not alone for the Irish language but for Irish industries. They met many Iveleary people who still spoke the language they first learned in Ballingeary district. He (Mr. MacColuim) was glad to hear that all the Irish colleges were progressing and that Colaiste na Mumhan was in the forefront. Still he thought the energies of the Gaelic League generally could not be better expended than in helping and strengthening those colleges which were an inspiration to all who came to them.

Rev. Gerald Nolan, M.A., Head Master, thanked Mr. MacColuim for his address and hoped that all the students would do their best to dissuade young Irish people from emigrating. There are at present about 150 students in attendance.
